FEATURED DIGITAL COLLECTIONS AT CANISIUS COLLEGE

This summer CNY is featuring two digital collections from the Andrew L. Bouwhuis Library, Archives and Special Collections at Canisius College; The Collection of Rev. James J. Ruddick chronicling the history of the Canisius College Seismograph Station and The Collection of Rev. Ludwig Bonvin, a well known Jesuit composer and teacher at Canisius College.

Founded in 1870, Canisius College is one of 27 Jesuit colleges and universities in the nation. A private four-year university in Buffalo, New York, Canisius offers an array of programs in business, education, humanities, technology, sport administration, and health and human services.

Canisius recently celebrated their Sesquicentennial Year with the Andrew L. Bouwhuis Library, Archives and Special Collections commemorating the event by featuring newly digitized legacy collections, and increasing the accessibility of newer social justice collections.

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

by Julia Proctor

Dear Colleagues,

As many of you know, I became the new Executive Director of ConnectNY on July 1st. I was very lucky that Pam stayed on for the month of July to get me started, and I'm grateful to her for her guidance.

A bit about me: my background is in collections and acquisitions. Most recently, I served as the Head of Acquisitions at Penn State Libraries, and I've worked in a variety of positions at the University of Michigan and the University of Wyoming.

I live in State College, Pennsylvania with my wife and four daughters, but I'm looking forward to spending time in New York state. Just a couple of weeks ago, I went camping with my family in Watkins Glen. We had a lot of fun hiking and seeing the Rainbow Falls as well as listening to the melody of the cars at the raceway :-).

Janelle and I will be forming this year's committees soon and scheduling the first meetings in September. I'm excited to get to know some of you through that work, and I also plan to visit your libraries this fall and spring. I'm really looking forward to getting to know all of you.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to me if you need anything or if you just want to say hello.

Julia

These projects reflect the values that emerge from the Jesuit tradition, and Canisius' commitment to serve as the intellectual, academic, and social center of Canisius College.

Thanks to Kathleen Delaney, Archivist, Andrew L. Bouwhuis Library at Canisius College for her contribution to this entry.

Announcements

Communications Working Group

The ConnectNY Communications Group would like to invite all of ConnectNY's members to share any marketing and/or outreach materials that they have created in regards to ConnectNY. The intent of these materials is to share ideas as well as files that can be edited by other members. As such, we ask that all members understand that any files uploaded to the Marketing Resources and Strategies Community of Interest (COI) Basecamp may be freely used and edited by all other members under Creative Commons licensing rules. When possible, please upload raw, editable files such as .doc, .png, .pst, and .pub files. Please email Janelle Toner at janelle@connectny.org for more information.

Project ReShare News

Ivy Plus Libraries Confederation (IPLC) to Implement ReShare Returnables

The Ivy Plus Libraries Confederation (IPLC) recently announced their intention to implement ReShare Returnables in Summer 2022. IPLC also intends to become a member of the ReShare Community.

IPLC writes "The new software will create more efficient staff workflows, eliminating some of the time and complicated steps needed to deliver items to patrons."

Employment Opportunity - Marist College

The James A. Cannavino Library is currently seeking a Library Assistant to fulfill duties primarily associated with Public Services and Circulation. These duties will include: coverage of a public-facing desk; participating in the hiring, training, scheduling and oversight of student employees; and providing good customer service to library patrons including students, faculty and other members of the Marist community.

High school diploma required. 3-5 years of progressively responsible secretarial/clerical work or any combination of training, experience and education sufficient to indicate an ability to do the work required. All candidates must also be able to demonstrate general computer proficiency with Microsoft Office Suite.

For more information and to apply, please go to the Marist Career Site
